

Jason A. Macaluso '96
Vice President, Wealth Management
Boone Macaluso Capital Advisors at UBS

For more than 15 years Jason has helped clients manage their wealth through multiple market cycles and he has experienced some of the best and worst periods in history. He joined UBS in 2008 after 7 years at Smith Barney and prior tenures at Prudential Securities and Wachovia Bank.

With a focus on risk management, Jason utilizes tactical asset allocation models to align clients' investments with their financial plan. Having the capabilities and resources of the world's largest Wealth Manager, he implements outside of the box solutions for clients' complicated situations. He is fully committed to being proactive and responsive to clients' needs.

Jason earned his Bachelor of Science in Finance from Providence College in 1996. Since graduating, he has remained very active in the Friar Alumni community and he is passionate about giving back to the school. He has served on the executive committee of the PC Alumni Club of New Haven and he commits time each year to Providence College students in the Alumni Career Shadowing program. He currently serves on the Business Advisory Council of the Providence College School of Business.

He is also an accomplished endurance athlete and has competed nationally in numerous triathlons and road races. He lives in Killingworth, Connecticut with his wife and their daughter.
