

Michael J. Turillo, Jr. '96
Vice Chairman
Spencer Trask & Co.

Mr. Turillo is Vice Chairman of Spencer Trask & Co an early stage venture capital private equity firm. The Spencer Trask network of private investors and business leaders supports the dreams of scientists, inventors and entrepreneurs. Spencer Trask enables obsessive missionaries—people with visionary ideas and ground-breaking technologies that help people.

Mr. Turillo is also Co-Founder, Vice Chairman and President of Spencer Trask Collaborative Innovations LLC that was designed to bring the open collaborative innovation revolution to fruition at the world's leading corporations, and government organizations. STCI's products and services through its various Member Firms enables clients to identify significant business opportunities, address innovation gaps and problems, automatically discover qualified talent and relevant knowledge; and then identify, vet and execute innovative yet practical solutions through proprietary online collaborative innovation ecosystems.

Mr. Turillo continues to consult to both public and private global organizations and is a frequent speaker and lecturer on the topic of open innovation. His recent research and development work with his world leading co-founders at STCI has resulted in paradigm shifting approaches that harnesses the power of today's technology to better support ideation, software enablement of collaborative ecosystems and trusted and transparent social and community networking to improve various business models, products and strategies for growth and sustainability.

Mr. Turillo currently serves as a board member of the following companies:

- Cybersettle Inc
- STCI (Vice Chairman)
- Inno360 Inc (Chairman)
- VenCorps LLC (Chairman)

- Third Screen MarketPlace LLC (Chairman)
- Community Designs (Chairman)

From September 2001 through December 2003 Mr. Turillo was a Business Unit Executive at the IBM Corporation where he had successive responsibilities for - Northeast Financial Services Consulting Practice and the Global Collaborative Commerce/Dynamic Workplaces within IBM's Global Business Services.

Mr. Turillo retired in 2001 after a 28 year career at KPMG International. When he retired Mr. Turillo was one of the Firm's senior partners, a Member of the Firm's International Management Executive Committee and served as the Firm's Global Chief Knowledge Officer. During his career Mr. Turillo also served as Partner-in-Charge of the Global Financial Services Consulting Practice; and was the founder and National Partner-in-Charge the U.S. Firm's Capital Strategies Group.

Mr. Turillo was honorably discharged as a Captain in the United States Army having served in the Republic of Vietnam where he was awarded the Bronze Star for his tour of duty from 1970-71. Mr. Turillo earned his BS from Providence College in 1969, MBA from Syracuse University in 1972 and MS Operations Research from the University of Massachusetts 1973

Mr. Turillo lives in Casey Key Florida with his wife Deborah of 41 years and has two grown children Stephanie and Christopher and two grandchildren.