I graduated with a B.A in Psychology from Providence College and have an MBA in Information Technology Management from Western Governors University. I remained in Rhode Island after finishing college and currently work as a Senior IT Consultant/CIO at Focus Technology Solutions located in Boston, Massachusetts. I have been in the field of information technology for over 10 years. As a CIO at Focus, I work with various businesses of all sizes to create information technology road maps, improve security posture, and align technology initiatives with intricate business goals.

I am a major foodie and will travel to the ends of the world to try new foods. I have traveled to Beijing, Australia, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, Ghana, Italy, Barcelona, Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Dominican Republic so that I can sample all the amazing foods these places have to offer. I enjoy taking on new challenges to push my limits both mentally and physically. I took part in a Spartan Race without any formal training with the goal of completing every obstacle and I achieved that goal.
