

Mark Seyer '06
President
Seyer Industries

With 18 years in aerospace manufacturing, Mark began his career at LMI Aerospace in 2006. There his team focused on building sub-assemblies for the UH-60 Black Hawk helicopter. Following LMI, he transitioned to Seyer Industries, beginning his career in the family business as a purchasing agent. Over the next decade, he led various departments, building relationships and learning the business.

As president of Seyer, Mark oversees the company's operational leadership, working closely with his brother, Chris, the Chief Executive Officer. With a team of over 280 people, he has a strong focus on building a team that fits the company's culture and driving the strategic direction of the business.

Mark is a 2006 graduate of Providence College, with a B.S. in Business Management and a minor in finance. Mark and his wife, Nikki, find joy in raising their four children: Luke, Fiona, Charlotte, and Emma, in St. Louis MO. Mark enjoys volunteering his time coaching his kids and is part of the executive committee of the St. Charles Economic Development Council.
